For whom

A visa is required for any trip to Kenya. This applies to all residents of Europe, including British and Irish citizens travelling to Kenya on business or for a holiday. The only exception is made for children up to and including 15 years old; they only need to carry a valid passport to enter Kenya. Although children do not need a visa, they must meet the requirements outlined in this information document.

Requirements for online application

The application must be made at least 14 days before departure. To be eligible for a Kenya visa, a passport is required. All regular passports issued in Europe are valid. However, emergency passports are not. A residence permit is also not sufficient. The passport must still be valid for at least six more months upon your arrival in Kenya, and there must still be room to put a stamp.

The visa can be applied for by filling in the online application form. After paying the corresponding fee, three more documents are required;

- A recent passport photo (or selfie)*
- A scan of the passport (or a photo of the passport)**
- A booking confirmation***

* It is important that the photo is in colour, with a white (or lighted and uniform) background, with the face in sharp focus and clearly visible, and no headgear (unless religious).

** The only thing that is important is that the information page (on which the name and passport photo can be found) is in full view, sharp and clearly legible. You may also use your phone to take a photo and use it to apply for a visa for Kenya.

*** This can be one of the following three documents:

- A booking confirmation of the hotel, resort or campsite being visited
- A booking confirmation of the return flight (return or onward flight)
- An invitation from the company, organisation or person you will be visiting in Kenya

Validity period

The visa for Kenya can only be used for a single journey, making it a so-called single-entry visa. However, a relatively long trip, up to 90 days, can be made with this visa.

The visa for Kenya can be applied for well before departure, but will not be granted until 30 days before departure. An application submitted earlier remains on hold until 30 days before departure.
